Fidelity Electric Named on Angie's List's "Page of Happiness"

Designation recognizes excellent workmanship and outstanding customer service

SAN DIEGO, CA – Mar. 1, 2008: Fidelity Electric has been named on the Page of Happiness in the San Diego edition of Angie's List Magazine. Companies are nominated for the Page of Happiness by Angie's List members who have been thrilled by the level of service they received. Nominations are considered for recognition in the magazine, if they meet certain criteria, including: whether the member gave the company an A grade in every category, whether the member would hire the company again, and whether the member's remarks about the service received were "especially glowing." Only a select few are chosen for publication on the Page of Happiness.

"We are delighted to be formally commended for our efforts to offer our customers an enjoyable, hassle-free experience," said Roger Ervine, president of Fidelity Electric. "We specialize in electrical service and repair, so we are often called in to stressful situations, such as when a homeowner has lost power to a critical area of the home. Our electricians understand the importance of efficient, value-oriented solutions, while also remaining sensitive and respectful of the residents in the home."

Fidelity Electric has received eight nominations for the Page of Happiness, since first appearing on Angie's List in November 2006. The company has been nominated in Electrical, Lighting, Ceiling Fans, Pools & Spas, and Remodeling categories.

Established in 2006 by Suzanne and Roger Ervine, Fidelity Electric has built its business on an unparalleled reputation fueled by word-of-mouth and referrals on sites such as Angie's List. Roger's expertise and diligence in electrical troubleshooting, remodel, service and repair has propelled the company to the top of the listings on several consumer-driven referral sites. The company continues to promote its campaign of homeowner education and awareness, recently publishing "Four Quick Questions That Reveal Any Electrician's Operating Philosophy" which can be downloaded for free at www.fidelityelectric.com.

Fidelity Electric serves homeowners, professional property managers and commercial clients throughout San Diego County.
